Since 1984, Ellwood has been a technology consulting operation focusing on the legal market. Ellwood's "Case Management" team consists of professionals who help firms to manage data and process it into meaningful, useful facts and chronologies. Team members regularly help prepare affidavits and factums; assist in the preparation leading to an examination, a motion and trials; and often attend these proceedings, sitting behind counsel to provide a smooth and reliable delivery of documents and data to the counsel if and when required. Ellwood develops and executes in-courtroom presentation materials on projectors and large screens and other media to assist in the delivery of the key points of the case.
