September Release

WOLTERS KLUWER CONTENT (FORMERLY CCH ONLINE LAW AND BUSINESS LIBRARY)

Wolters Kluwer (formerly known as CCH Online Law and Business Library) is now accessible directly through Lexis Advance® Quicklaw®. The integration of this content into the Lexis Advance Quicklaw platform gives you access to innovative functionality and an advanced search engine, as well as new flagship legal research materials in key areas of legal practice including: corporate law; commercial law; securities law; employment and labour law; real estate law; family law; and wills, trusts and estates law. Civil law titles in French practice areas are also available.

How does this help you?

- Access Tables of Concordance to provide you with comparable laws across various provinces
- Utilise interactive Smart Charts to research legal issues and link to key legislation and commentary
- View exclusive content from respected authorities such as the Ontario Real Estate Guide, Canadian Securities Law Reporter and Canadian Employment Benefits & Pension Guide.

The following screen shots offer an example of how you can use LexisNexis Smart Charts to streamline your research efforts:

Long Title

SEGMENT / FIELD SEARCHING

You can now restrict your search to a specific part or segment of a document by using the Big Red Search Box at the top of the page.

How does this help you?

- Find cases that a specific judge has presided over, and identify trends that may determine how they may decide a future case
- Find cases that the lawyer you're up against has been involved in, and gain insight into arguments they've raised in the past
- Find articles written by experts, or articles that discuss key legal issues in the summary or title
- Surface a more streamlined results list, and find key information more quickly – both within a document and across a range of content types

The following segments were made available in our September release:

Content Type	Segment Name
Cases & Tribunal Decisions	Case-Name Counsel Court Judge Summary
Forms	Form-Number Form-Title
Law Reviews & Journals	Article-Title Author Citation Journal-Title Year
Legislation	Citation Official-Title Section-Number
Quantums	Case-Name Summary

The screen shots below illustrate the segment search process:

ENHANCED LEGAL TOPICS TAXONOMY

Browsing for legal topics before you run a search now provides a deeper level of sub-topic choices.

Legal topics within the Private Law domain (i.e., Family, Contracts, etc.) now distinguish between those sub-topics relevant to English Common Law and those relevant to French Civil Law.

How does this help you?

- Narrow down your search from the outset, and save time, by only finding those documents relevant to an extremely specific area of law
- Gain an idea of legal issues that fall under the banner of a particular area of law
- Avoid a cluttered results list by finding documents relevant to Common Law or Civil Law

The following screen shots illustrate the process for drilling down to specific results:

REGULATIONS, AND LAW REVIEWS AND JOURNALS IN THE WORD WHEEL

Regulations and Law Review & Journal article titles are now recognized in the Big Red Search Box Word-Wheel.

How does this help you?

- Find documents more easily without going through a results list
- Benefit from regulations and articles being suggested as you type (see examples below)
- Reduce your number of clicks by going straight into a document directly through the Word Wheel

ANNOTATIONS AND NOTES

User annotations are now displayed on the right hand side of a document in a Notes pane; you no longer have to click on an annotation to view the text.

How does this help you?

- Scan through a document and easily keep track of annotations and highlights that you've made, or that a colleague has made and shared with you (see example below)

WHAT'S NEW

Coming in November Release

NEW FEATURE: POD-REARRANGEMENT

You will now have the ability to rearrange the Pods on your landing page. Simply drag a pod to where you wish it to appear, and the other pods will rearrange automatically. This allows for a greater degree of customization, and assists in having frequently accessed pods more visible at the top of the page. When you sign out and then sign in again, the pods will reappear as you rearranged them.

ENHANCEMENTS TO SEGMENT SEARCHING FROM BIG RED SEARCH BOX

In Lexis Advance Quicklaw, documents of the same type have similar structures and contain certain sections and data elements in common. For example, all case documents contain the case name, citation, judge's name, and so on. These common document sections and data elements are called segments, and Lexis Advance Quicklaw enables you to limit your searches to these specific segments, as illustrated in this example:

Segment searching functionality from the Big Red Search Box has been enriched through the addition of more segments:

Document Type	Segments Previously Available	Newly Added Segments
Cases & Tribunal Decisions	Case-Name Counsel Court Judge Summary	Citation
Forms	Form-Number Form-Title	Heading
Law Reviews & Journals	Article-Title Author Citation Journal-Title Year
Legislation	Citation Official-Title Section-Number	Heading
Quantums	Case-Name Summary	Citation
Secondary Materials		Chapter-Title Commentary Author Heading Book-Title
Dictionaries		Case-Name

This will provide a more streamlined results list and allow you to quickly find key information within a document and across a range of content types.

ENHANCEMENTS TO TERMS AND CONNECTORS SEARCHING

New capabilities are being added to the “Search Within” feature from within the Results View. You can now prefix the search terms with AND NOT or BUT NOT to narrow the results set to documents that exclude those terms. As a result, you can filter out any documents that contain instances of a particular search term and only focus on those documents most relevant to your search, as illustrated in this screen shot:

The screenshot displays the Lexis Advance Quicklaw interface. At the top, the search bar contains the query "breach of contract" and "dam". The search results are for "breach of contract" and "damages" or rescind! with 10,000+ cases. A sidebar on the left shows a "Snapshot" of document types: Cases (10,000+), Legislation (249), Quantums (1,178), Drafting Materials (147), Secondary Materials (3,744), and Dictionaries (35). A "Narrow By" filter is highlighted with a red box, showing the text "and not 'specific performance'". Below this, a "Search Within Results" section is visible with an input field for "Enter search terms". The main results area shows two cases: 1. Drouillard v. Cogeco Cable Inc., 86 O.R. (3d) 431, and 2. Sumner v. PCL Constructors Inc., [2010] A.J. No. 948. Each case entry includes a list of citations and a "Case Summaries" section.

IMPROVED ACCESSIBILITY

Visually impaired users who use a screen reader (such as JAWS) to navigate through Lexis Advance Quicklaw will benefit from the latest improvements to the way PDF documents are accessed. In addition to bookmarks for easier navigation, there will now be document titles included in the PDF.
