

there's a cost to "Free" legal research

Free platforms can sometimes be a good place to start your research but you can often waste time sifting and assessing the information they return.

- No immediate way to verify that a case is complete and accurate.
- Search results drown relevant information in volume.
- Impossible to verify if cited cases are valid and relevant.

Authoritative?

Content sourced from leading legal authorities; editorial enhancements from team of in-house experts.

Comprehensive?

Results include relevant forms and precedents, related analytical materials, legislation, and both reported & unreported cases.

Good Law?
